POLICE PROBE SHOOTINGS

SEVEN DIE AT CRESTON

IT'S THAT TIME OF YEAR AGAIN

Thousands of school children are preparing to invade area classrooms Tuesday, armed with pencils, paper, books, erasers, rulers and other equipment when schools reopen after a two-month lull. Kelowna and district merchants are holding back-to-school sales to aid students in their acquisition of necessary tools for their studies. At the same time, RCMP officials are advising motorists to take caution next week and be on the alert for small children, many of whom will be attending school for the first time.

Coast IWA Settles For New Contract

VANCOUVER (CP) — Labor Minister Leslie Peterson announced Friday that negotiators for the International Woodworkers of America and British Columbia's coast forest industry have reached agreement on contract proposals to end a summer-long dispute.

Workers remained on the job during the lengthy negotiations. "I don't suppose I've ever had a better Labor Day message for the people of British Columbia," Mr. Peterson said at a news conference after announcing that the two sides had agreed on "clarifications" of settlement proposals made Aug. 17 by special mediator Mr. Justice Nathan Nemetz.

The union had announced two weeks ago it would recommend that its 28,000 coastal members reject the Nemetz report because it did not go far enough in recommending fringe benefit improvements.

The report's main proposals would give the workers wage increase of 60 cents an hour over two years on the current base rate of $3.12 an hour. Tradesmen would get an additional 30 cents over the two years.

Judge Sat In On Talks

Jack MacKenzie, regional vice president of the IWA and chairman of the union's negotiating committee, said union members will be asked to accept the revised Nemetz proposals. He said a membership vote would take "approximately two weeks" because some logging locals are in remote locations.

John Billings, president of Forest Industrial Relations, the bargaining agent for 116 forest companies, signed the tentative agreement and said acceptance will be recommended to member companies.

The lack of a health and welfare plan paid by the company was one of the union's main objections to the Nemetz report.

Under the revision, the companies would pay 55 per cent of the cost of the plan effective last June 15, when the previous contract expired. They would pay 60 per cent starting June 15, 1971, and 70 per cent starting Jan. 1, 1972.

The "clarifications" were hammered out in eight days of almost steady negotiating, with Mr. Peterson and Mr. Justice Nemetz sitting in most of the time. Mr. Peterson said the announced terms all "flow from the report" of Mr. Justice Nemetz.

In Kelowna, negotiations between local International Woodworkers of America, representing some 4,000 workers employed in 40 companies in the area, and the Interior Forest Labor Relations Association, are continuing.

Interior locals are seeking $11.44 an hour increase on a base rate of $2.88 to give them parity with coast locals. President of the IWA Interior local, William Schumaker, was not available for comment today.

'Dangerous Man' Being Hunted

CRESTON, B.C. (CP) — RCMP were seeking an "armed and dangerous" man believed to be holding a child hostage after seven persons were found shot to death in two houses near this southeastern British Columbia community today.

The child was believed the only surviving member of a family of six after a man and woman and three of their four children were found slain in one of the houses. A mother and her daughter were found dead in another house.

Armed police were reported concentrating their search in the Corn Creek area, southwest of Creston near the United States border. Roadblocks were set up throughout the southern Kootenay district.

RCMP were reported watching for a man in his late 20s who might be driving a blue 1965 model car.

The bodies were found early today. Police would not say how they learned of the killings.

A West Kootenay newspaperman just before noon today told the Courier the RCMP were releasing no information.

The area where the incident occurred is in West Creston, across the Kootenay River from the main community of about 2,000, located 90 road miles east of Trail.

West Creston is described as "a rundown area, inhabited mostly by Indians." But there was no indication what race the victims were.

Police were also not saying when the incident occurred, nor when the bodies were found.

A large force of policemen was searching the immediate area and fanning out toward Cranbrook, 60 road miles further east, but they wouldn't say what, or whom they were seeking.

Unexpected Rebate Goes To Growers

An unspecified rebate on the 1969 apple crop went out to some 3,200 apple growers in the Valley late this week as a "wind-up" to the 1969 payments.

Confirmation of the "across the board" payments to growers (but not the total amount involved) was made today by Ian Greenwood, general manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. and Sun-Rype Products Ltd., who said he could not verify the specific amount of the rebates.

The local fruit industry was shaken last week with the announced resignation of Eric Moore as general manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. A subsequent statement by George Whittaker, president of the company, revealed the appointment of Mr. Greenwood as joint general manager of the firm. Mr. Greenwood has been general manager of Sun-Rype Products Ltd. for the past six years.

Mr. Whittaker's directive stated that it "makes a great deal of sense at this time to have an overall manager for the two companies."

He said the joint management concept would be "under continual review" for the next few months, with final decision being presented to delegates at the next general meeting of the BCFA in January.

Mr. Moore's resignation was followed by an announcement by the Naramata Co-Operative Growers Association that it was investigating the possibilities of by-passing B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., and selling on the open market. The move was believed to be an expression of "discontent" with prices set up by the marketing agency for 1969 crops. A motion to conduct the investigation of an open market was apparently passed by association members attending a special meeting at Naramata Aug. 31.

The decision was greeted with mixed feelings by fruit industry spokesmen throughout the Southern Okanagan, but no official comment has been forthcoming.

EGYPT'S VIEW

U.S. 'Far From Truth' Over Truce Violations

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Egypt says the United States is "absolutely far from the truth" in its charge that Cairo has been violating the Middle East ceasefire by setting up anti-aircraft missiles near the Suez canal.

The Egyptian foreign ministry also said Friday that "while the United States succumbed to Israeli pressure, it has taken no action on Egyptian counter-charges of Israeli violations." In fact, the ministry said, the United States itself has violated the military standstill by sending Phantom jet fighters to Israel since the ceasefire went into effect Aug. 7.

Egypt said its foreign minister, Mahmoud Riad, has presented the complaints to Donald C. Bergus, the top U.S. diplomatic official in Cairo.

In Washington, a state department spokesman said the United States has demanded "rectification" by Egypt and the Soviet Union of the alleged ceasefire violations.

But he declined to say if this meant an insistence that the missiles be pulled back out of the canal zone.

The United States already has said the Soviet Union and Egypt must stop violating the ceasefire, but Israel has said this is not enough and that the missiles must be removed.

TAKING ACTION
Israel is entitled "to take action on the political level and any other level it deems necessary," Foreign Minister Abba Eban said in a Jerusalem television interview Friday. "We are now pursuing political methods."

He said Israel's ambassador to the United Nations, Yosef Teoh, would not be returning to New York immediately to continue the indirect talks opened last week by UN envoy Gunnar V. Jarring.

Israeli Defence Minister Moshe Dayan said in a surprise statement today that he believes Israel is in the "final stages" of the Middle East war. He said that Israel wants an end to the hostilities and added that negotiations started because "the Americans and the Russians and the Egyptians wanted it to end."

Heath Plans Major Speech

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Edward Heath will make a major foreign policy speech to the United Nations General Assembly Friday, Oct. 23.

It will be his first speech abroad since becoming prime minister in June. Informed British sources said there are no firm arrangements yet for Heath to hold summit meetings with other world leaders who will be in New York in October for the 25th anniversary commemorative session of the General Assembly.

If Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin attends this could provide the opportunity for a Big Four summit meeting of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

Under present arrangements for his October visit, Heath has no plans to go to Washington for talks with President Nixon or to Ottawa for discussions with Canadian leaders.

$5,000 Bail Set In Bank Holdup

VANCOUVER (CP) — Bail was set at $5,000 Friday for David Linton, 38, charged with simulating a gun and robbing a branch of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce of about $2,000 Thursday.

Hussein Wants Tensions Eased

He commented in an interview on Israel's state radio.

Jordan's state radio said today that King Hussein had ordered army units withdrawn from around Amman, the capital, in an effort to ease tensions after a round of sporadic fighting between Palestinian Arab guerrillas and Jordanian troops sent a new wave of fear through the city Friday night.

Diplomatic sources in Paris said Hussein had asked for help from the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union in the face of a threat by Iraq to intervene militarily to protect Palestinian guerrillas in Jordan.

Libyan strongman Col. Muammar Kadafi said several thousand Libyans are training with Russians in neighboring Egypt. He made the disclosure in a question-and-answer session at the end of a speech at Benghazi as part of the celebration of the first anniversary of the coup that brought him to power. He offered no details.

An Aesthetic Mystery...

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (Reuters) — Police here are baffled by the case of a missing Russian ballet star and a shapely Brazilian samba dancer who disappeared together six days ago.

Alexandre Filipov, 25, walked out of the Russian Mossovet classical ballet company while it was performing here Aug. 31 accompanied by the lovely Brazilian Lucl Tristao, 24, who is said to have flown to Mexico after falling in love with the Russian in Brazil when the Soviet company performed there earlier this year.

Bomb Scare For Onassis

BELFAST (Reuters) — A bomb scare forced police to cord off the area where Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis and his wife were having lunch in this Northern Irish capital today.

Police searched nearby buildings but later announced they had found nothing and had concluded that the call was a hoax. The couple and Onassis' 22-year-old son Alexander were having lunch with shop stewards, dock workers and committee members of a sports and social club at the Harland and Wolff Belfast shipyard.

Police said they received an anonymous telephone call saying a bomb had been planted. Onassis is the largest shareholder in the shipyard. During his visit there today he ordered two 265,000-ton super-tankers that will cost between $20 million and $25 million each.

SOME BARE SPECTATORS

No Nudes Good News For Shy Girls

FREELTON, Ont. (CP) — There will be no nudes on stage today—only in the audience—as the Miss Nude World contest opens in this village 15 miles north of Hamilton.

The owners of Four Seasons Nature Park, Hans and Lisa Stein, say they expect today's crowd—mostly from among the 500 members of their nudist club—to swell to 3,000 Sunday for the nude judging.

Today it's bikinis.

Mrs. Stein said she was sure the number of contestants would also rise. There were 11 at a reception in the park Friday evening but Mrs. Stein said only two of 33 applicants had informed her they were backing out.

One of the two dropouts is a Canadian Cree Indian who was advised against entering the contest by leaders of her tribe.

The judges, including broadcaster Gordon Sinclair, footballer Angelo Mosca of Hamilton "Tiger-Cats and a Hamilton doctor who will judge anatomy, will choose the winner on looks, stamion, poise and answers to a question about nudism.

All contestants must be members of nudist clubs, of which there are 14 in southern Ontario and about 50 in Canada. They must display the even ton of a true nudist, with no strap gaps.

Mr. Mosca said in an interview that Mrs. Stein asked him two weeks ago to be a judge and he thought it over a few days before consenting.

"When it came out I was going to be a judge in a nude contest, I really took it from the guys in the locker room. But they all said they wanted to be my alternates."

Mrs. Stein said the only purpose of the contest, for which she and her husband took the Canadian copyright for the name Miss Nude World, is to promote Canadian nudism.

"Most people think nudism is connected with sex, like your swinger clubs, but it isn't like that at all," she said. "It's something different for everyone so I can't speak for others, but I met a lot of nice people in nudism."

"I'm more comfortable with-out clothes and I enjoy swimming in the nude. It's healthy for the mind. Never mind the body, it's the mind that's important—especially for the children.

"There is less crime among nudist teenagers, sexual crime that is."

Winner of the contest will receive a one week trip to Florida for two, a crown, trophy, ski outfit and pet monkey. The public is barred from the proceedings and security is tight at the 38-acre park. It is surrounded by a high corrugated steel fence and the guard posted at the gate for the week-end will admit only card-carrying members of nudist clubs.

Prince Albert Strike Ends

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP) — A memorandum of agreement, ending a strike against the Prince Albert Pulp Mill, was signed shortly before midnight Friday night, the deadline for settlement set by Premier Ross Thatcher.

Settlement was announced jointly in a statement from union and management negotiators.

Members of the Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers' Union were to return to work today (Saturday). The pact averted a special session of the legislature scheduled for Tuesday if there was no agreement within the time limit.

Labor Peace Essential 'For Prosperity In B.C.'

Labor and management must eliminate "conflict and dissension" if British Columbia is to achieve the prosperity it is capable of in the 1970s, says Labor Minister Leslie Peterson. In his annual Labor Day message Mr. Peterson said the province's record of achievements during the past decade is "envied by all sections of the country, but we cannot rest on our laurels."

The young would-be bandits turned and walked out empty-handed. Cashier Joy Fielding told the police the weapon the eldest boy held half-hidden in a pocket looked suspiciously like a water pistol.

India's 279 pensioned maharajas won a reprieve today when the Rajya Sabha, upper house of Parliament, failed to approve by one-third of a vote a constitutional amendment abolishing their privy purses and special privileges. In an embarrassing rebuff to Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, the upper house voted for the legislation 149 to 75, while technically she needed 149 1-3 votes to meet the constitutional requirement of two-thirds approval of those members voting. The vote left the future of the amendment in doubt.

'LET ME SEE NOW, ANGLE PARKING MEANS...'

How to make one car do the job of three sounds like a Detroit automobile advertisement, but instead it's the doubtful talent of parking one car across three places. With parking at premium on Bernard Avenue this Manitoba driver, who apparently invented a new definition for diagonal, was lucky he didn't get lynched by residents as he left his vehicle in position to block three stalls. Whether the driver got his just deserts from a passing traffic officer was never known but the car got some derisive glances from passing pedestrians and motorists. —(Courier Photo)

Classroom Scene Resumes Tuesday

School District 23 (Kelowna) officials have three days left, including Tuesday, to prepare for an estimated 12,000 students to attend classes in district schools.

However, officials do not know how many students will be enrolled until school opens Tuesday and official attendance records made available by Thursday.

Fred Macklin, school district secretary-treasurer, says projections based on average increases from nine to 12 per cent per annum during the past five years, estimate 12,000 pupils enrolled in the system.

This would be an increase of 1,200 from the 10,800 pupils in the system when the last term expired June 30.

School district superintendent, P. J. Orme, told school trustees Aug. 27 advance registrations indicated an increase in student enrolment, adding accurate figures would not be known until Sept. 15 when all students had registered.

NO PICKING

Mr. Macklin said Friday the board once again reminds parents and students of all ages and grades, students are to report to their respective schools Tuesday, and not to go fruit picking.

"A few years ago, we had a problem with students who would stay at home picking fruit instead of registering in schools when the schools opened.

"By the time the students registered, it was October and we had some problems on our hands."

In recent years, he said, all arrangements have been made with the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, farm labor committee, and Canada Manpower, that if any emergency arose in the fruit industry, the school board, with these organizations, would decide whether students would be released to assist.

He added it is board policy that students who intend to register in the schools, whether of compulsory school age, should do so on the first day of school.

In the case of students past the compulsory school age who do not register, Mr. Macklin said they would be refused admittance unless satisfactory reasons for absence were presented to the school superintendent.

MUST CHOOSE

"In effect, this means students and parents must choose between going to school and working at some other occupation," he said.

On shifting, Mr. Macklin said plans called for virtually no shifting of elementary pupils.

CTV On Thursday

Engineers of Black Knight Television Co. Ltd. are still conducting tests to bypass current interference on channel four (KXLY), said Richard Gunoff today, manager of the local firm.

An earlier statement by the company this week said current interference on channel four was not the fault of the cable or home sets, but was the result of a channel change at the Skaha Lake transmitter of CHBC-TV, to make a channel available to the CTV network for the Penticton area. Asking viewers "patience" in the matter, the cable company added its engineers were "working to return your channel to a useable picture."

Mr. Gunoff further clarified that future CTV network programming will be available on channel nine, instead of channel seven as previously reported. Spokane channels four and six will remain on their current channel slots.

The new CTV network, Vancouver CHAN-TV, being micro-waved from the coast by CHBC-TV on channel five, will begin programming Thursday, an official of the station confirmed today.

CHBC programming on channel three has been moved to channel 13 to accommodate the new channel location of channel two (KREM) which was previously seen on channel five, and now going to channel three.

Legion Assists Students

Kelowna branch 26, Royal Canadian Legion, together with the branch auxiliary have this year awarded a total of $3,300 in scholarships and bursaries, branch scholarship chairman A. H. Whitehouse has announced.

These bursaries are made up of five branch bursaries totaling $1,300, with the ladies auxiliary awarding $900 to three students from School District 23.

In addition to these awards, the branch and ladies auxiliary jointly subscribed a $500 bursary through Pacific Command of the Royal Canadian Legion, along with two $300 awards from the ladies auxiliary. These bursaries are administered by Pacific Command and awarded to students within the local school area.

Wet Day Is Fine

Cool damp weather has allowed British Columbia Forest Service officials in Kelowna to enjoy the Labor Day weekend.

No new fires have been reported, and all fires burning have been termed under control.

To date there have been 87 fires in the Kelowna ranger district, a record. The previous high was 60 in 1960.

In Victoria, BCFS officials said precipitation which fell over most of the province during the past few days was "a million-dollar rain."

Although the changed weather reduced forest fire hazards in all parts of the province, record figures have already been established.

There have been 3,870 fires since May 1, a record. The previous provincial high was 3,216 in 1967.

Cost of fighting them rose $500,000 during the last week to $7,998,100. This exceeds the 1967 high of $7 million.

Acres burned this year stands at 211,000. This compares with 400,000 acres last year and with the 10-year average of 266,000 acres.

BCFS officials said during a peak fire year, which this year has been, more fires are reported and kept to small sizes.

Although there were 260 new fires during the last week, the rate fell off markedly during the last two to three days and there were only 14 new starts Thursday.

There were 283 fires burning today in comparison with 419 a week ago.

None of the present fires are serious and all are under control.

Forces involved in firefighting are being reduced rapidly.

There were 2,000 men and 140 bulldozers on the job last Friday, but only 426 and 17 respectively today.

The recreation closure imposed in the Nelson forest district Aug. 27 was lifted at noon Thursday and at the same time the month-old campfire restriction was removed for the entire province.

$66,000 Goal For 1970 Chest

About 800 canvassers, including help from 19 local agencies, will hit the collection trail in a one-night residential blitz Sept. 30 to zero-in on a $66,000 target in the 1970 Community Chest and Red Cross United Appeal.

"If you don't do it, it won't get done," is this year's slogan and the Central Okanagan Community Chest, under campaign chairman Glenn Lawrence, hopes to surpass the 1969 returns of $65,000; the most successful campaign of the organization to date.

A commercial and industrial canvass has been scheduled for Sept. 15 in the city and plans are being completed for individual drives at Winfield, Okanagan Centre Rutland, Ellison and Westbank. Campaign chairmen for these separate areas will be announced next week.

Besides Mr. Lawrence, this year's campaign executive includes R. J. Wilkinson, vice-chairman; Ray Fieldhouse, commercial and industrial chairman; Dr. George Deagle, professional division chairman and Robert Demara, promotional and publicity chairman.

Campaign directors are former mayor R. F. Parkinson, Mike Roberts, Basil Meikle and Mike Rudkin. Past campaign chairman is Russell Bennett.

Agencies participating in this year's canvass will be the British Columbia Borstal Association; Big Brothers of British Columbia; Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatic Society; Canadian Mental Health Association; Canadian National Institute for the Blind; Canadian Red Cross Society; Central Okanagan Boy Scouts Association; Kelowna branch of the Navy League of Canada; Kelowna Boys' Club; Kelowna Health and Welfare Fund; Kelowna Homemakers; Okanagan Neurological Association; Salvation Army; Kelowna and District Society for the Mentally Retarded; Volunteer Recreation Services and Volunteer Bureau; Westbank Boys' Club; Canadian Council on Social Development and the Voluntary Association for Health and Welfare of British Columbia.

List Of Regional Voters To Be Used By Two Groups

The Regional District of Central Okanagan will prepare a voters' list to be used jointly by the regional district's electoral areas, and by School District 23 (Kelowna).

Under legislation passed during the last sitting of the provincial legislature, the 28 regional districts throughout the province were to obtain the lists for use by both groups.

The only areas exempt from the regional district obtaining the lists are incorporated towns, villages and district municipalities, and cities.

A. T. Harrison, secretary-treasurer of the regional district, said the voting list, to be compiled by Sept. 30, will be used for regional district elections Dec. 12, and by the school board for their elections as well.

Directors up for re-election are W. C. Bennett, Glenmore; J. H. Stuart, East Kelowna; D. A. Pritchard, Lakeview and G. H. Whittaker, Ellison-Rutland. They are elected for two-year terms.

In addition, an election has been called to complete the term of Bert Jansen, South Pandosy-Benvenuto, who resigned earlier this year.

Four areas are not up for elections this year, Mr. Harrison said, adding they would hold their elections in 1971.

The four are John McCoubrey, Winfield-Oyama; M. M. Marshall, Rutland; W. H. Raikes, Okanagan Mission and Andrew Dugan, Westbank.

Two representatives from municipal councils serve as representatives from their areas on the board.

They are Ald. W. J. C. Kane, Kelowna, and T. R. Stuart, Peachland.

Nomination day is Nov. 30. To be qualified on the voters' list, a person must fill three prerequisites.

He may be entered as an owner-elect if he owns real property within the regional district boundaries; occupies real estate owned by a corporation of which he holds capital stock equivalent to the value of the property as defined in the Provincial Home Owners' Grant Act; or a person who holds an agreement to purchase land under the federal Veterans' Land Act.

To be qualified as a resident-elect, a person must have resided in the area for at least six months prior to the election and must own property.

TENANT ELECTOR

A tenant-elect is a person who has been a tenant in occupation of real property within the regional district boundaries for a minimum of six months prior to the election, providing he is not registered as an owner-elect or resident-elect.

The latter two qualifications fall under Section 34 of the municipal act, which states a person's name may not be entered on the voters' list as tenant-elect or resident-elect unless they have delivered a declaration stating those facts before 5 p.m. Sept. 30 to the regional district office.

Owner-electors are placed on the list from information received by the provincial finance department.

In all cases, a person must be 19 years old minimal and a Canadian or British subject to be qualified as a voter.

New Position For J. J. Gerein

Kelowna Growers' Exchange general manager J. J. (Jack) Gerein, has been appointed production manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., of Kelowna.

A well-known and active worker in the fruit industry, Mr. Gerein served on the boards of directors of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., Sun-Rype Products Ltd., and the Kelowna Growers' Exchange where he has been manager since 1961. He is now in his second term as president of Okanagan Federated Shippers' Association, and prior to joining the KGE operated an orchard in the Kelowna area.

A resident of the city since 1934, Mr. Gerein was born in Saskatchewan and received his basic education in the Valley before taking engineering studies at the University of British Columbia. Married, with three children, he has served as secretary of the Catholic school board for six years.

Several Mishaps Overnight Only One Involves Injuries

A two-car accident at the intersection of Birch Road and Harvey Avenue at 3:10 p.m. Friday resulted in about $350 damages and no injuries.

Vehicles involved were driven by John McCutcheon and Ute Schwab, both of Kelowna.

Collision of two vehicles driven by Geoffrey Sarsons of Kelowna, and Perry Norval of Vancouver, caused about $300 damages and no injuries. The mishap occurred at 6:45 p.m. on Bernard Avenue. Another accident, on Highway 33 at 5 p.m., resulted in some $250 damages and no injuries to drivers Donald Gardner of Beaverdell, and Thomas Bowie of Guthrie, Okanogan.

NOT DETAINED

William Leiske of 583 Coronation Ave., was treated for minor injuries at Kelowna General Hospital Friday after a mishap at the intersection of Bernard Avenue and Richter Street. Police, who brought Mr. Leiske to hospital, said he apparently fell from his bicycle into the side of a passing car. The mishap occurred about 10:45 a.m. Mr. Leiske was not detained at hospital.

An accident at the intersection of Reid's Corner and Highway 97 North, caused about $350 damages and no injuries at 2:50 p.m. Vehicles involved were driven by Donald Ruth of Salmon Arm and George McEwen of North Surrey.

No charges have been laid against Carl Seizer of Kelowna, involved in an accident with bicycle rider, William Leiske of Kelowna at 10:40 a.m., at the corner of Richter Street and Bernard Avenue. Mr. Leiske received minor bruises and was not detained at Kelowna General Hospital.

Damage to the extent of $600 resulted when a motor vehicle driven by Glenn Ehl of Rutland struck a light standard at the intersection of the Old Vernon Road and Moir Road at 2 a.m. today. Cause of the mishap was a stuck gas pedal. No injuries were incurred.

A two-car accident at the intersection of Harvey Avenue and Birch Road caused about $350 damages and no injuries to drivers William Bowser of Kelowna, and Fred Klausman of Vernon. The mishap occurred at 10:10 a.m.

Cool, Damp ... Unsettled

Cool, unsettled weather should dominate the weather over the Central Okanagan during the next three days, as a series of Pacific disturbances move inland.

Cloudy skies with a few periods of rain each day should prevail.

Winds should be north 15 in the main valleys.

Friday's high was 72, the overnight low 46 and no precipitation was recorded to 8 a.m. Low tonight and high Sunday should be 50 and 70.

Outlook for Monday, continuing cool.

TO OCT. 15

Donald Ellison, Kelowna, pleaded not guilty Friday to a charge of theft under $50 and was remanded to Oct. 15 for trial before Judge G. S. Denroche. Also remanded was Charles King, charged with theft under $50. He will appear for trial Oct. 16.

BEHIND THE SCENES

Bargaining Can Be Fun

By RON ALLERTON
Courier Staff

Have you ever noticed how certain news items always seem to contain the same adjectives?

Invariably when two or more vehicles crash and someone is killed the accident is referred to as a grinding crash. And have you ever heard of an aircraft with engine trouble doing anything but limping back to the airport? And, why is it that storms can't do anything but rage?

But this rather dull, stereotyped use of adjectives offers other possibilities. Think how much fun we could have with union negotiations, using the right combinations.

For example, we could have the steelworkers trying to iron out their differences. Or carpenters hammering out a new agreement.

THEN THE PLUMBERS could try to unplug the bottlenecks in their contract talks, while the tunnel and rock workers bore to the centre of their problems.

And if the postal workers can sort out their differences, why can't the electricians try to throw some light on theirs?

While boilermakers are putting pressure on management, the lifeguards could wade right into their talks.

Everyone knows the IWA is logging a lot of time at the bargaining table, but if the workers happen to be highriggers they could go out on a limb for more money.

You can be sure the firemen don't want to get hosed when it comes to a new contract and parks crews are sure to weed out what they don't want.

Chess players don't want to reach a stalemate, while basketball and tennis players are seeking a net increase.

BEFORE MEETING with management, football players will huddle with themselves, and bartenders aren't interested in any watered down offers.

Cowboys don't want to get roped in, and farmers hope they can raise their standards.

Janitors might seek sweeping changes and lawyers could plead for better hours.

Don't be surprised if draftsmen angle for a better deal, while printers press for more.

Welders, when they finish negotiating, might issue a joint statement, while sidewalk makers could try to cement relationships.

You can be sure stagecoach drivers won't horse around and if things don't improve ballplayers might seek employment in another field.

TELEPHONE OPERATORS are calling for a new line of attack and secretaries refuse to come away from the bargaining table shorthanded.

Demanders from projectionists could leave management reeling and sausage-makers want to get to the meat of contract talks.

With capital punishment abolished hangmen will need a contract with no strings attached and bakers want a raise in dough.

Showmakers will have to do a bit of sole-searching and blacksmiths are determined to forge ahead.

Cold storage workers are against a wage freeze and demands from powdermonkeys could blow things wide open.

Front end men want a complete re-alignment and golfers are completely teed off.

And, through it all, management isn't too happy. They get the feeling the collective bargaining system means they bargain and the unions collect.

Sept. 12 Kin Date

Sept. 12 is a big day for Kelowna Kinsmen.

That is the day their new officers will be installed at an evening ceremony at the Capri.

Elections were held in May, which saw James Lidster elected as president, with Amerigo Corrado as first vice-president and Roy Phillips as second vice-president.

Lars Pads was elected secretary, Warren Coulter treasurer and Les Baird registrar.

Ray Busch is immediate past-president.

Bulletin editor will be James Watson.

Three new directors were also elected. Paul Bernard, Michael Beacock and Eric Tasker.

The executive was to have been installed in late June, but due to a heavy commitment of regional deputy governor, Eric Hornsby of Armstrong, the date was set aside to Sept. 12.

Mr. Hornsby is deputy governor for the Okanagan-Mainland zone.

Mrs. M.J. Mack Funeral Tuesday

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. from Day's Chapel of Remembrance, Mrs. Mary Jane Mack, 80, of 2155 Aberdeen St., who died early Saturday.

She arrived in Kelowna 57 years ago and married in Rutland one year later.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack farmed in the Rutland, Joe Rich and Ellison districts until moving to Kelowna in 1960 to retire.

Mrs. Mack is survived by her husband William, two daughters, Catherine (Mrs. M. M. Marshall), Rutland, and Christine (Mrs. Jack Reorda), Castlegar, seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

She was predeceased in 1935 by one son, William.

Rev. E. E. Fleming will officiate with interment to follow in the family plot in Kelowna Cemetery.

SEEN and HEARD

Hippies aren't all bad, says a west side department of highways employees. After finding boxes of rubbish on the side of Campbell Road, he made a few inquiries and discovered a two-hour clean-up was the work of two long-haired youths who had camped in the area for a day or two. "It's not often you find anyone picking up their own garbage, let alone anyone else's," he said, "they deserve a pat on the back."

Electrical gremlins caused production problems in the Courier pressroom Friday. Two large fuses blew out, causing carrier boys to be about an hour and a half late with their deliveries.

Temporary mobile contractors quarters at the new federal building site at Ellis Street and Queensway proved an adventuresome sounding-board for three little boys Friday. Each one was observed with his ear pressed firmly against a wall and giggling mischievously.

Word of the Kelowna Swimming Pool Committee's walkathon, Sept. 10, covering a 20-mile route in South and East Kelowna, has reached Prime Minister Trudeau. A telegram received from the prime minister's office offers best wishes to all participants and luck in achieving the goal.

Cpl. Arthur Smith, of Kelowna, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, reside in the city, has been assigned to Canadian Forces Station Foymount, Ont. The motor transport section of the station completed six years of accident-free driving Aug. 4. During the six years, the station's 26 vehicles, ranging from a passenger sedan to 40-passenger buses, were driven 1.4 million accident-free miles. CFS Foymount is a long-range radar site of the 22nd NORAD region, the largest of the Joint Canadian-American Air Defence Command Regions.

Two Men Face Court

Bail was set at $500 cash and one surety for Russell Elliott of Kelowna, in provincial court today before Judge R. J. S. Moir. Charged with purchasing a motor vehicle with a worthless cheque, the accused was remanded to Sept. 11 Friday before Judge D. M. White.

Driving a motor vehicle with an alcohol blood count exceeding .08 per cent resulted in a fine of $200 against Gerald Hannon of Penticton, who pleaded guilty to the charge. The accused was also prohibited from driving a motor vehicle in Canada for a period of six months. Court was told Mr. Hannon did not have a driver's licence at the time of his arrest, and subsequent questioning revealed he had not had a licence since 1956.

ENJOYING THE LAST FEW DAYS

Most children facing the prospect of just three more days of summer holidays would probably want to avoid any contact with books, but this group at City Park piled right into boxes of magazines and handbooks. Perhaps the outdoor atmosphere made the children more receptive to the printed word or maybe the books are just more exciting than school varieties. At any rate, be it books or vigorous athletic activities, most school-age children in the city are trying to cram as much holiday fun as possible into the falling days of the two-month break. A late Labor Day this year gives the children a few more days holiday than in most years. —(Courier Photo)

GUEST EDITORIAL

Role Of Mediator Proves Not An Easy Assignment

Pick up your newspaper any day of the week and just as sure as you are living you will find mention of at least one dispute between management and labor, between one faction and another. As I glance through just one paper I find mentioned no less than three major disputes on the front page and in two of them mediators are working desperately to bring about a peaceful solution.

The postal talks have been dragging on for too long now and nearly everyone is wishing that he could depend on a letter getting to its destination on time. Trying to bring about agreement we find a conciliation board and at times a mediator brought in to see what he can do. A headline reading "Big Three Auto Makers' Offer May Not Meet Union Demands" brings to our attention the fact that a strike may very well be called if no agreement is reached soon and quite possibly a mediator could be called in to see if the sides can reach an agreement.

We see that the Middle East peace talks have a mediator, Gunnar Jarring, attempting to bring about a peaceful settlement to a very explosive situation. And so we could go on. We are certainly aware even in this beautiful part of the country of labor disputes in the building industry and other areas.

Can a mediator in such situations help? Sometimes. But as we have seen in the postal talks it takes more than just a mediator's presence in a room. It takes a willingness on the part of each opposing side to let the mediator do his job and a real desire for a solution to be reached with concessions being made by both sides.

This business of disputes between people has been going on since the beginning of time itself and will continue as long as people inhabit this earth because of human nature being what it is. These disputes separate people and keep them from enjoying peaceful, harmonious relations with each other. There is one great dispute which has been going on since the beginning of time—the dispute between Satan and God and this dispute has been carried forth in the hearts of men to this very day. Man sinned against God and because of this there has been set up a great gulf between man and God which man has never been able to bridge. No matter what we may try to do or how we try to work things out at our "bargaining table" with God we can never bring about a complete reconciliation for as Isaiah said long ago "our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify before us". What we need is a mediator!

Well, thank God, a mediator has been given to us. "For there is one God and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus". (1 Timothy 2:5). The reason Jesus came as God in human form to this earth was to bring about a peaceful reconciliation between sinful man and a righteous God. By the act of giving His life on the cross and rising again to sit at the right hand of God He became our mediator or intercessor.

The Bible tells us in Hebrews 7:25 that "He is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by Him, seeing He ever liveth to make intercession for them". Further the writer of Hebrews tells us "But Jesus the Son of God is our great high priest who has gone to heaven itself to help us; therefore let us never stop trusting Him. This high priest of ours understands our weaknesses, since He had the same temptations we do, though He never once gave way to them and sinned. So let us come boldly to the very throne of God and stay there to receive His mercy and to find grace to help us in our times of need."

—Capt. Reginald Pell, The Salvation Army.

Another Question On Flag

If Cochrane MP Ralph Stewart has his way, a Canadian flag will be on display in the House of Commons early in the new session of parliament.

Mr. Stewart raised the issue of the lack of a flag earlier this year and introduced a private member's bill calling for the display of a flag in the Commons' chamber, but it did not reach the debate stage.

Since then he has written a letter to the Speaker, Lucien Lamoureux, suggesting that the Speaker has the authority in his own right to have a flag displayed and that legislation is not required.

However, Mr. Lamoureux has taken the position that he should not act unilaterally and has suggested that Mr. Stewart work through a committee of the house.

The Cochrane MP plans to re-introduce his bill in the new session in October and will ask that the government immediately refer the bill to a committee for study and a report.

"Surely, if there is any place in Canada where a Canadian flag should be on display, it is the House of Commons," Mr. Stewart declares. "Other nations fly their flags in their legislative chambers, and I cannot see why Canada should not do the same."

Mr. Stewart does not think the lack of a flag was tied in with a possible objection from Quebec MPs about displaying the former Canadian ensign in the Chamber. He thinks, instead, that the lack of a flag has simply been an oversight over the years and one that should be rectified as soon as possible.

It seems the flag issue is still being waved with enthusiasm.

LOOKING BACK WITH OLD STAGER

Responsible Government Was Robson's Main Aim

By ART GRAY
Author of Kelowna—Tales of Bygone Days

Robson did not continue to publish the Daily British Columbian in Victoria for very long. Three daily newspapers in a town as small as Victoria was in those days just too many. In July, 1869, the Colonist purchased the British Columbian plant, and Robson was hired as political editor.

Needless to say, his editorials dealt mainly with the subjects of confederation, responsible government and a trans-continent railway. When Governor Musgrave arrived in August, 1869, he was much impressed with him, and welcomed him as "a doctor to a sick colony."

Later, however, a dispatch from Lord Granville, the secretary for colonies, was made public, that indicated that British Columbia was to enter Confederation without any change in the old undemocratic constitution, in which appointed government officials would continue to outnumber the elected representatives in the new provincial legislature. Robson fought doggedly against the proposals outlined in Clause 15 which read as follows: "The constitution of the executive authority of the legislature of British Columbia shall, subject to 'The British North America Act, 1867', continue as existing at the time of union, until altered under the authority of the said Act."

Robson moved an amendment as follows: "Whereas no union can be either acceptable or satisfactory which does not confer upon the people of British Columbia a full control over their own affairs as is enjoyed in the other provinces, with which it is proposed to confederate, therefore be it resolved, that an humble address be presented to His Excellency the Governor, earnestly recommending that a constitution based upon the principle of responsible government, as existing in the province of Ontario, may be conferred upon this colony, coincident with its admission to the Dominion of Canada."

In the end, Robson's amendment was defeated, the appointed members of the council voting solidly against it.

DEEP DISAPPOINTMENT
While Robson and the supporters of responsible government, were deeply disappointed by the stand of Governor Musgrave, the situation that faced the governor, who had been specifically sent to bring British Columbia and Vancouver Island into confederation, was the necessity of getting the support of at least a section of appointed members of the council to enable the resolution in favor of joining the Canadian confederation to pass.

To most of them any talk of responsible government was like waving a red rag to a bull. It would mean completely wiping out their control of the province's affairs. An example of the attitude of most of the appointed members is the comment of Edgar Dewdney, representative Kootenay, who declared: "I have travelled through the country as much as any honorable member of this council. I have been brought in contact with all classes and I have yet to meet the first individual who has expressed a desire for responsible government." Speaking of his own constituency he stated: "All they want is money to keep their trails in order and a resident magistrate to administer the laws."

It looked as though Robson and his ideas had been completely blocked, and the reactionaries had won the day. Robson later found a way to circumvent these reactionary forces. On April 11 a public meeting of citizens of Victoria appointed a delegation to interview Governor Musgrave of the public dissatisfaction with the representatives chosen, and to request responsible government, but got no satisfaction.

Robson and the publisher of the Colonist, David Higgins, decided to send H. E. Seelye, a Victoria auditor, to Ottawa as a special correspondent, to cover the Ottawa proceedings. He was more than a reporter, however, for he was actually going there to "lobby" for changes in the agreement.

He was undoubtedly successful, for when the terms were finally accepted by Ottawa they contained this clause: "The Constitution of the Executive Authority and of the Legislature of British Columbia, subject to the terms of the British North America Act, shall continue as existing at the time of union until altered under the authority of the said Act, it being at the same time understood that the government of the Dominion will readily consent to the introduction of responsible government when desired by the inhabitants of British Columbia, and it is likewise understood that it is the intention of the Governor of British Columbia, under the authority of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, to amend the Constitution of the Legislature by providing that a majority of the members shall be elective."

This spelled the end of domination of the legislature by appointed officials and assured eventual responsible government as the final outcome. It is not surprising that this course of action was taken, for it was unreasonable to expect that the existing provinces of Canada and the central government would want to continue in existence a situation in which the inhabitants of one province were denied the right to responsible government that all other provinces enjoyed. The first step toward this came with the proclamation of the new council of 15 members, of which nine were to be elected and six only were to be appointed. Robson while not too happy with "half a loaf"—accepted the new council grudgingly.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT
On Jan. 20, 1871 the legislative council gave unanimous consent to an address to the Queen requesting admittance of British Columbia into the Dominion of Canada. On July 20 the same year British Columbia became officially a province.

Just when the cause for which Robson had fought for so long was reaching fulfillment Robson suffered a political setback. Elections for legislature had been held, and he failed to win a seat. Having moved to Vancouver Island he felt that New Westminster would now regard him as an islander not qualified to truly represent them, so he accepted a nomination for Nanaimo, but was defeated by 11 votes. He attended the first session of the new legislature, the first held under confederation, only in the capacity of a newspaper representative.

He did not stay out of the political field very long, however, for he was elected later in 1871 in Nanaimo, in the first election after confederation.

In 1875 he resigned to become paymaster for the CPR in its survey of the transcontinental line in British Columbia, until it was completed. In 1880 he again took up publication of the British Columbian back in its original home, New Westminster. Re-elected to the legislature in 1882 he became minister of finance and agriculture, and in 1880, on the death of Premier Davies, became premier of British Columbia. His tenure of office was short, for three years later, while in London discussing trade and immigration matters with the British government, he passed away following an operation.

Memorial services were held in Westminster Abbey, after which his body was returned to Victoria and buried in Ross Bay Cemetery. So passed a man who fought a lifelong battle for "Responsible Government."

NEWS ANALYSIS

Guerrillas Nod Vital In Mid-East

By PHILIP DEANE
Foreign Affairs Analyst

President Nasser of Egypt is having talks directly and indirectly on a continuing basis with various Palestine guerrilla leaders to obtain their approval to some sort of peace plan for the Middle East. It is easily seen that Nasser has an interest in making peace—the war costs him too much. It is easily seen that Jordan wants peace—the country is disintegrating under the pressure of the guerrillas. But the guerrillas do not want peace because they believe that a return to Palestine is their only escape from refugee camps. The question, therefore, poses itself: can there be peace in the Middle East—any kind of peace—without the approval of the guerrillas?

In theory there could be peace between Egypt and Israel and between Jordan and Israel while warfare between the guerrillas and Israel continued. Israel would have to tell itself that Egypt and Jordan are not guilty for what the guerrillas do. In fact, the Jordanian government has not been guilty, most of the time, for what the guerrillas have done to Israel. The Lebanese government also has not been guilty for what the guerrillas did to Israel. But these governments, in fact, tried their best, from time to time, to deny the use of their territory as a base of operations for any guerrilla group. This has often led to fighting between the forces of Lebanon and Jordan on the one hand, and the guerrillas on the other. Egypt too, on occasions (but not as assiduously as Lebanon or Jordan) has tried to curb guerrilla raids into Israel.

SANCTUARIES
Israel has refused to recognize that the official governments of its neighboring Arab countries might not be responsible in any way for raids by Palestinian guerrillas. There are good tactical reasons for Israel's attitude: Israel is so small that guerrillas can strike deep and get out very quickly, without being caught. To kill enough guerrillas and discourage them, the Israeli high command has felt it needed to exercise the right of "hot-pursuit," to chase the guerrillas wherever they flee and, as an extension of this principle, to strike at them before they strike, attacking their bases on the territories of Jordan, Lebanon or, before 1957, the Gaza strip which was then in Egypt.

Israel has always maintained that it cannot assume that the Arab governments do not cooperate with the guerrillas. The minute it makes that assumption, the co-operation will begin. Feeling safe from Israeli retaliation, the Egyptian, Jordanian and Lebanese governments will try to avoid challenging the powerful guerrillas and will—by not challenging them—make their lot easier. Israel would then be attacked with impunity by people who would have inviolable sanctuaries close at hand.

CANADA'S STORY

Russian Clerk Unveiled Spies

By BOB BOWMAN

When the Second World War ended in 1945 it was hoped that there would be peace for many years at least. The dream was shattered by an event that took place in Ottawa on Sept. 5, four days after Japan's unconditional surrender.

Igor Gouzenko, a cipher clerk in the Russian embassy, defected and revealed that Russia was operating an espionage organization in Canada, the U.S. and Britain to get information about the atom bomb, the most powerful weapon ever devised. Gouzenko's shocking revelation led to the hot war that had ended becoming a cold war that has continued ever since.

Gouzenko's action was shocking not only because it revealed the existence of the spy ring, but because Russia and the free world had been gallant allies in the war against Germany. Ordinary people had the highest regard for the Russians and only the political leaders knew of the distrust that existed among the allies. The U.S., Britain and Canada, whose scientists had combined in the development of the atom bomb, had kept the information secret from the Russians.

When Gouzenko left the Russian embassy with his secret documents he had the greatest difficulty getting anyone in Ottawa to pay attention to him. Fortunately he and his wife sought shelter in a neighbour's home, while a squad from the Russian embassy raided his home to bring him back. It was 36 hours before the authorities began to realize his importance and provided police protection, which he still has 25 years later.

Gouzenko's revelations led to Prime Minister MacKenzie King going to London and Washington to confer with Prime Minister Attlee and President Truman. A number of spies, including a leading British scientist and a Canadian member of parliament were arrested and put in prison. The cold war was in the open.

Defy Shift System

By BETHEL STEELE

This year, more schools than ever, in our school district, will be on the shift system. The situation is raising many serious problems not the least of which will be the effect it will have on extra-curricular activities which in some cases are a very important part of our children's education.

In spite of it Jeunesses Musicales for school children will be continued this season for Grade 6 and 7 students in schools from Peachland to Oryana. There will be two morning performances for the students proper, who will be bused in to four concerts in the Community Theatre to hear professional artists in a proper concert hall atmosphere. It is the intention of the central JMC committee to continue the evening concert for adults and high school students at a minimal fee. Last year 85 per cent of Grade 6 and 7 students participated with a few schools reaching the 100 per cent mark.

Rumor has it there will be some 30 centres in B.C. this year thanks to the drive of Mr. Joe Johanness. First Kelowna concert will be Oct. 21. . . . Beckett and McDonald, Canadian duo pianists. Their matched grands will travel with them and Mr. Henri Henrikson of Vernon has been commissioned to travel with them throughout B.C. as tuner.

The November concert will be a Tugoslav soprano, violin and piano trio. A request has been made for this trio to perform during the B.C. music educators' conference to be held in Kelowna the weekend of Nov. 6. In view of the large Canada Council grant received by JMC contingent on the organization reaching all parts of Canada, Montreal would do well to co-operate in this instance.

What is an educated man? He is one to whom all times and places are contemporary. All times live together. And all education is self education. What is important is not how much education we have but how we use what education we do have. True education assists us to go on from where we left off. And education means books.

A thriving cultured community will support a properly stocked book store. At long last Kelowna has one. But not all of us are able to afford the buying of books which now cost more than they ever have in the history of publishing.

Those of us who need books to live by always look first in any community for the public library . . . in the case of Kelowna . . . the local branch of the Okanagan Regional Library (without Penticton).

In 1959 the Regional Library served 9,000 in the city of Kelowna and area . . . 24,000. In 1969 it served 17,000 for Kelowna proper and 33,000 in the area. I haven't the figures for circulation in 1959 but in 1969 the Kelowna branch proper served a circulation of 200,000 and the region 750,000. Already the first six months of 1970 the circulation is up 10 per cent. The library's Peter Lof's sights a possible 220,000 for Kelowna for the full 12 month period of 1970.

The budget for the library is based on 1.03 of a mill as assessed on the property value of each community served. The figure has remained virtually unchanged the last three years.

Population in the valley is growing much faster than the assessed value of the property from which income for the library stems. And because more people than ever before are reading there are not enough books to go around.

For the average reader there are not enough history, geography and travel books and not enough copies of the best seller pressure books. There is a distinct danger that "books" . . . an essentially private thing . . . are becoming involved in the mass media.

There just is not enough money to provide the service the public demands. The buying choice is beyond comprehension. Those responsible for buying state once a book, no matter how doubtful the buyer might be, is on the shelves it gets read. And Mr. Lof's went on to remind us that reading is the last bastion of individual freedom.

In 1968 $75,000 bought 15,000 books. This year's budget without Penticton will be $72,000. And today's average price per book to the library is $4.19 for a hard back. Put the figures all together and the result is serious from the standpoint of an enlarged reading pool.

Commencing Sept. 14 the library will conduct a survey on how the service might be improved and what the public needs and wants from its library service. A questionnaire will be available to each reader. It is hoped that all the 10,000 registered Kelowna readers will take advantage of this opportunity.

I often wonder what would happen if all those 10,000 should suddenly decide to want books. No doubt pandemonium would prevail.

'First Rec. Commission Meet Deals With Reports, Visitors

PEACHLAND — The first fall meeting of the Peachland Parks and Recreation Commission was a busy session with visitors and reports taking up most of the agenda.

Attending the meeting as a representative of Brenda Mines was Bert Maxy who requested clarification of the commission function in the community and how funds available to the commission are dispersed, in light of a request by the commission from the mine.

Commission chairman Don Wilson outlined the activities of the group and explained that under the new municipal bylaw the commission is in charge of all municipal recreational facilities, as well as recreational programs for all age groups in the community.

Mr. Maxy took notes on his findings and was provided with the municipal parks and recreation bylaw for further reference.

John Silvinski and J. H. Clements spoke on the proposed development of the Blue Waters park and outlined plans to plant trees, lawn and outfit a possible playground area within this park. The committee expressed their agreement with this plan and appointed Paul Gluchenko to work with the committee as a representative of the commission.

J. H. Clements, present with Mr. Silvinski, informed the commission that the Lions club is also taking part in the Community Fall Fair on Sept. 11 and that he is in charge of the horseshoe tournament to be run that day and requested the use of the commission's horseshoes; this was approved.

The meeting then made the decision that instead of trying to maintain the horseshoe pitch on the CPR fill, which has been driven over repeatedly this summer, all players should in future be directed to the pitches on the north side of community hall put in by Brenda Mines for their annual employees' picnic this summer.

Also representing the Lions was L. G. McCall who wanted to plan for beautification of the triangle off Highway 97 on the south entrance into town and the banks both on the lake side and the tunnel side of the street.

Committee members told of the many discussions the commission and other groups have had about this matter, and as a fairly long water system would have to be put in the commission had felt money in the parks budget would not be sufficient this year. Mr. McCall was asked to work with chairman of the parks committee J. R. Davies and come up with a cost estimate for this improvement.

A notice was received from the department of travel industry that a grant in aid has been approved of $600 to the commission from the government.

The 1971 budget was discussed and as the commission has been in full operation for eight months, the chairman felt a more realistic budget could be drawn up for the coming year and requested all chairmen of departments call committee meetings and come up with some definite figures before the next meeting which has been changed from the usual date to the first Wednesday in each month at 7:30 p.m. instead of 8 p.m.

Turner Backs Bail Reform

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Justice Minister John Turner met with a dozen top Canadian police leaders to promote the federal government's new bail reform bill.

The policemen are attending the week-long annual convention of the Canadian Association of Chiefs of Police.

The bail reform bill was introduced just before the end of the last session of Parliament and will be dealt with at the next session.

Under the bill, policemen will have to make a decision on the street on whether to lock up a person for an offence or issue him an order to appear in court at a certain date.

The majority of chiefs at the convention have said privately they oppose much of the new legislation but that they agree with its intent.

Mr. Turner, a justice department spokesman said, will be urging more training for policemen on beats.

The chiefs apparently feel too much responsibility would be left with the officer making the arrest.

Following the meeting, Mr. Turner said there has been an excessive abuse of powers of arrest by Canadian policemen. "When in doubt, arrest" is the motto of some policemen, he said.

"I think, after visiting the United Kingdom and the United States, that with this new legislation, we will have the most progressive legislation in the Anglo-speaking world."

WANT QUICKER TRIALS

Earlier in the day, the chiefs demanded that Mr. Turner and provincial attorneys general find a quicker way to bring persons to trial.

RE: STUDENT ATTENDANCE

- It is essential that all students be in attendance on THE FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL.
- Secondary Schools operating on the semester system or on swing shift will be in full operation immediately.
- No loss of student time can be allowed since time to complete school courses is limited.
- The following School Board policy must be observed:
All students who intend to register in the schools, whether of compulsory school age or not, shall do so the first day of school in September, and will remain at school unless an emergency is announced.

Students who do not register will, in the case of those over compulsory age, be refused admission for the current school year, unless satisfactory reasons for absence can be presented to the District Superintendent. This means that students and parents must choose between the students going to school and working at some other occupation. Summer jobs must be terminated so that full attention can be given to school studies.

WITH MARY

Quite Contrary

By MARY GREER

Next week is L.O.O.M. week. In the modern jargon, every organization or movement has an abbreviated title, which also spells a significant word. This one, in case you're interested is short for Liberation of Ordinary Mothers — who will be heaving a sigh of relief come Tuesday morning when their offspring go back to school.

Towards the end of the summer vacation, children get restless and bored and even quarrelsome and mothers get perplexed and out of patience. Mothers weary of the referee game. They have trotted faithfully to swim classes, to the beach, have tried to feed the hungry horde, who can always eat when there is nothing else to do. They have coped with messy little people making popsicles and have been 'dined' and 'nicked' to pieces, and the old familiar "There's nothing to do" complaint, has been heard over and over.

Please don't misunderstand, in between times, the family has enjoyed grand times together and most mothers are devoted to their sons and daughters, but with summer company, maybe some canning and regular routines all off schedule, most homemakers welcome the back to school rush, as they can see "LOOMing" on the horizon (took a while to work that word in, didn't it?) a return to an organized household, that is after they have recovered from the shock of the cost of school supplies and new shoes and clothes for school.

BACK TO NORMAL
Mom can look forward to enjoying a second cup of coffee in peace about mid-morning. She can also relish the thought of tuning into her favorite television program, or having the radio tuned in softly. If there are teen-agers, the telephone will be free again; the fridge will stay stocked up and she can vacuum the last bit of sand out of the living room rug.
It's an emotional time for young mothers sending a beginner off to school pushing the 'birdie out of the nest' is a tender time, an anxious time. Will he adapt to the classroom? Can she overcome her shyness?

But my sympathy goes out to the parents of high school drop-outs at this time of year. Well meaning persons will sometimes advise parents not to worry, saying "A year or two in the working world without a diploma will smarten them up and they'll be glad to go back." This may prove true in some cases and the department of education has excellent classes for upgrading those who choose to return to the academic world. But there are many who never return, who can't take the giant step required to re-enter the school stream.

WHAT'S NEW
So if you're one of these parents, make an extra effort this week to get your teen-ager back in the classroom. Even if you have to seek outside help in your discussions. If you find it hard to communicate, because of the so-called generation gap. Don't let this 'gap' build into a barrier. So there is a generation gap, and what's so terrible about that and what's so new about it? So much has been written about this, that young people and parents, too, have begun to believe this is a new illness baffling our civilization. Well, it's been around for a long time, and for my part, I can't see anything too alarming about it. Young people have dreamed dreams, have been idealistic and have been impatient for centuries, weren't you when you were a teen-ager?

Growing up in the thirties wasn't exactly an ideal situation and many young people expressed dissatisfaction with the old line parties, at that time, much to the disapproval of our parents.

In fact there were even problems about hair. Momma wept tears of anger, when I returned from a summer holiday with my ringlets shorn off into a 'boy's bob' (which was considered most unfeminine). Before that I recall my older brother and his friends sported sideburns and were considered quite the 'sheiks' in their day.

So please don't let this generation gap build into an obstacle, it's there, it's natural, it's good for both of you and please try to get your 'drop-out' back to school.

ANN LANDERS

Cheapskates Change Only If They Want To

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me if there is something wrong with my mind, like mental illness, I mean. I am 12 years old and I am so cheap it is disgusting. I just love it when somebody buys me an ice cream cone or gives me half a candy bar. And I am thrilled when I get a present of any kind. But when it comes to spending a dime on someone else I can always think of a dozen reasons why I shouldn't. I save almost all my allowance. Right now I have $43 put away. On Mother's Day I made up a poem so I wouldn't have to spend any money on a present. My mother was very pleased and even said it was a better gift than anything money could buy. On Father's Day I did the same thing. The poem I composed for my dad wasn't as good as Mom's and I think maybe he caught on to me. Please explain why a 12-year-old should act like this. Will I outgrow it?—Cheapskate.

make a conscious effort to improve. Decide what you consider your responsibilities (apparently a Mother's Day gift falls into this category, although it need not), then force yourself to act on it. After a while, you will establish a pattern of "coming through" when you feel you should and it won't be so painful.

CONSCIENCE AND COMMENT

Ladies Hit Out For Liberation

By REV. K. NEILL FOSTER

Aug. 26 was Liberation Day for women across North America and the stated objective was to throw down the apron and withhold affection for one day.

Today's women, the most pampered in history, are exploited, so they say, because they can not get abortion on demand, nor equal pay and opportunity.

But the "liberation" movement is more sinister than silly. Nearly all of the demands are indirect conflict with our Christian heritage and the Word of God.

Abortion-prone women resent the scriptural admonition to "bear children." Neither will they associate "Thou shalt not kill" with the fetus, complete with features and fingers, that they intend to flush away.

Young married women do not want to be "keepers at home." So they plunge into office routine, and sometimes from there into marital triangles.

Saint Paul advised, "Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection." Moreover, he would not allow her to "usurp authority over the man."

As he explained it, a woman needs to have "authority" on her head because she is more vulnerable to evil. It is a Christian concept, one of the highest, that a woman is the "weaker vessel" who requires the authority and protection of men.

And now for all the irate women who have been reading these comments, a note: This column censored and approved by my wife.

Roman Catholic Church 'Doomed' As Its Not Updating Position

MONTREAL (P) — The Roman Catholic Church is doomed because it has not come to terms with modern culture, says a former priest, now a professor of religion at Sir George Williams University here.

Charles Davis said in an interview Friday the Church is too concerned with its own institutional survival and well-being, with the preservation of the status quo.

Now a resident of Montreal, Prof. Davis left the church in 1966 because he was frustrated by the institution which had "entrenched itself so deeply into medieval and classical ways of thinking that it has fallen too far behind to meet the problems of the world today."

The crisis for him came after he attended the third session of the Second Vatican Council. He had seen the Vatican at work and found that it was a "bureaucratic hierarchical organization whose major concern was its own preservation."

"The church had never had a 'golden age,'" he explained. "Its work was appropriate to the times during the medieval ages precisely because it was the creator of the medieval culture."

"When the medieval and classical worlds broke down, the church insistently clung to it."

GRADUALLY CHANGED
"With the coming of the scientific revolution at the end of the 17th century, as well as with the French and American Revolutions, the classical world view gradually changed into what we call the modern world view."

"The classical approach stressed permanence and universality, while the modern emphasized the historical, temporal, contingent and the empirical."

"Similarly, the hierarchical structuring of societies broke down. Of course, this did not come overnight."

"The church was, and is, over-concerned about the protection of its institutional setup. It did not discriminate among any social, cultural, economic, political or technological advances."

"It held a blanket resistance and condemnation to everything."

After breaking with the church which he had served 20 years, Prof. Davis married Florence Henderson of Farmingdale, N.Y., whom he met while studying theology at Bristol University in England. They now have two children.

The couple moved to Edmonton in 1967. There, Prof. Davis took a position as professor of religious studies at the University of Alberta.

BREAD AND WINE NOW PERMITTED

VATICAN CITY (Reuters) — All Roman Catholics in future will be able to receive both the bread and wine at holy communion, instead of bread alone, if their local bishops agree, the Vatican announced today.

Previously, permission to administer communion "under both kinds" had to be given in each case by the Vatican, but a special instruction issued gives episcopal conferences or individual bishops the right to decide for themselves.

In the Western Catholic Church, the laity traditionally have received only the bread which they believe to be the true body and blood of Christ.

Sunday Schools Loose Members

TORONTO (CP) — The United Church Observer says United Church Sunday school attendance "has plummeted to the lowest point in the history of the church and willing teachers are harder and harder to find."

"Children are less and less interested," says the current edition of the Observer.

Last year, the church's total enrolment of teachers and pupils was 425,467, little more than half the 757,388 eight years ago.

MINOR HOCKEY SCHOOL ENDS TODAY

The Kelowna and District Minor Hockey Association's Summer Hockey School comes to a close today at the Memorial Arena. The school, directed by Granger Evans, assisted by Rob Glazier and

Tony Bigler, was split into four groups: pups, peewee, bantam and midgets plus, with each group receiving two hours of instruction per day. More than 100 youngsters, eight to 16, registered for the three-week school, with many more on waiting lists. Here, instructor Evans shows Danny Pellegrini (far left) the proper shooting technique, while the other five members of the pups division,

Roughies Rest Big Guns Stamps Can't Afford It

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

With a four-point lead in the Western Football Conference, Saskatchewan Roughriders can afford to rest such key players as quarterback Ron Lancaster and fullback George Reed, both nursing minor injuries.

But Calgary Stampede, who share second place with British Columbia Lions, have no intention of putting veteran quarterback Jerry Keeling on the sidelines.

"Why should I rest Keeling when he's the leading passer in the west," Calgary coach Jim Duncan said Friday. "We'd like to use (Larry) Lawrence more often but Jerry has been playing well and we're not about to change now."

The Roughriders, with six wins and a defeat, play host to Winnipeg Blue Bombers in one of two WFC Labor Day games Monday.

In Calgary, the Stampede will take on the Edmonton Eskimos in a game to be televised over the CTV national network starting at 2:30 p.m. MST.

WEISS STARTS
Saskatchewan coach Eagle Keys says Don Weiss, acquired from Winnipeg earlier this year, will get a starting assignment, relegating Lancaster—bothered by an ailing right arm—to the backup position.

However, Keys admits that Weiss could be replaced if things aren't going well for the Roughriders.

Reed's status is a question mark. The hard-running veteran, hampered by a leg injury, could see limited action with Canadian fullback Steve Molnar taking over his duties. Reed leads the WFC in rushing with 519 yards on 116 carries.

Weiss could be facing another backup quarterback in Ron Johnson, although Winnipeg coach Jim Spavital won't confirm or deny that regular Wally Gabler will be on the bench.

Gabler, inconsistent in most games this season, picked up a swollen ankle in Wednesday's 29-8 loss to Calgary.

The Stampede and the Lions have eight points, four more than the Eskimos, who snapped a four-game losing streak Tuesday with a 20-9 win over B.C. Winnipeg is in the cellar with a 1-5 record.

SECOND MEETING

Edmonton and Calgary, noted for low-scoring games in recent years, will be meeting for the second time this season. The Stampede took a 21-10 decision in an exhibition contest at Calgary but lost 14-2 in a regular-season game in Edmonton.

Duncan also indicated the Stampede would go through the air more often "in an attempt to loosen up the Edmonton defence."

Keeling started the trend Wednesday and completed 74 of 44 passes while tossing four touchdown strikes to Herman Harrison.

Duncan said offensive guard John Atamian, picked up on waivers from Winnipeg, will dress against Edmonton. If Granville Legins, a doubtful starter with a groin injury, is placed on the 30-day injured reserve list an import would have to be cut to make room for Atamian.

Edmonton halfback Jim Thomas, who rejoined the Eskimos after being cut from Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League, won't play in the Calgary game.

On a five-game trial, Thomas may have trouble breaking into the lineup. Terry Swann, at one halfback position, scored two touchdowns against B.C., and is one of the top receivers in the WFC, while Alan Pitblithly, another halfback, also turned in a strong game against the Lions.

Royals Start Senior B Championship

The B.C. senior B softball championship got underway at 2 p.m. today, with the Kelowna Royal Anne Royals meeting the New Westminster-Moody "666" in the first game of the three-day double-knockout affair.

The Royals, in their fourth consecutive attempt, will be looking for the first Kelowna title since 1958.

Six teams are entered in this year's provincial playdown. The other four clubs representing the different districts are Vancouver M and M, Nanaimo Tally-Ho, Victoria Denford Electric and Kamloops Dearborn Mustangs.

Games are scheduled for every two hours throughout the three days, all in King's Stadium, with Sunday encounters starting at noon.

Admission for the entire tournament is $3, while individual games cost 50 cents.

Kite Breaks Course Record But Leads By Only 2 Strokes

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — "You mean I broke the old record by seven strokes and all I've got is a two-stroke lead?"

20-year-old Tom Kite Jr. exclaimed as he moved into the final round of the United States Amateur Golf Championship here.

Kite, from Austin, Tex., shot a one-over-par 71 Friday for a 54-hole total of 207 on the 6,406-yard Waverly Country Club course here.

Lanny Wadkins, 20, of Richmond, Va., who lost the first-round lead, moved into second place with a 69 for a 209 total.

James Simons, 20, of Butler, Pa., was third at 210. Jim Gabrielsen, Atlanta, was at 211, followed by 1966 champ Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ont., at 212.

Kite made the exclamation of disbelief about his thin lead after an official announced that the 54-hole total bettered the three-round mark of 214 held by three others.

Cowan, who shot a 73, went two-over par on the 16th and 17th holes.

Although he is five strokes off the pace he said he feels he still has a good chance to win.

Wayne McDonald of Port Credit, Ont., was in 17th place with 222 after shooting a 74 in the third round.

Ottawa The Team To Beat

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Ottawa Rough Riders have supplied the vindication and now it will be up to Toronto Argonauts to supply coach Leo Cahill with the victory.

While his Argos were being described as the 1970 Canadian Football League champions even before the season started, Cahill insisted that the Rough Riders remained the power in the Eastern Conference.

His assertion was vindicated last Wednesday when the Riders beat the conference-leading Montreal Alouettes.

"If you look back you'll find that I said before the season started that Ottawa was the team to beat," said Cahill as his charges prepared to meet the Riders in Ottawa in one of four Labor Day CFL contests.

In the other EFC encounter Monday, Montreal visits Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

WEST IN ACTION

Out west, Edmonton Eskimos visit Calgary Stampede and Winnipeg Blue Bombers are in Regina to meet Saskatchewan Roughriders.

The CTV national network has set up a double-header program with the Calgary game being televised at 5 p.m. EDT and the Ottawa game following at 8 p.m. EDT.

All four Eastern clubs have made lineup changes for Monday's action.

A new figure in the Argos' defensive backfield will be Don Sutherland, cut by Ottawa before the season started. He joined the Argos at Regina when they lost 36-14 to Saskatchewan, but this will be his first time in the Argo uniform.

"I've been waiting for a chance to play this game ever since I was cut," Sutherland said. "It hurts a man's pride when he's cut for no reason."

Taking over injured Dick Thornton's position at left cornerback should give Sutherland an opportunity to pick off one or two Ottawa passes.

USAGE UNDECIDED

Cahill said he's not sure whether he'll use Sutherland as a place-kicker instead of quarterback Don Jonas.

"It will depend on the situation," said Cahill. "Jonas kicked two field goals in the last game, but Sutherland has a lot of experience kicking under pressure and it may be that we'll need him in there."

The Riders announced Friday they have dropped defensive back Tom Deacon to make room for flanker Whit Tucker who is returning from the 30-day injured list. However, Tucker is not expected to play Monday. He is recovering from a knee operation.

The Riders may be announcing more cuts if they decide to keep any of three new players in camp for tryouts.

Quarterback Barclay Allen, picked up on waivers from Edmonton, defensive back Jim Smith from Denver Broncos of the National League and light end Dave Bivce, a former Argo who has played for Los Angeles Rams and Denver, are the new players trying for a place with the Riders.

TWO ALA INJURED

Coach Sam Elcheverry has a couple of injured Alouettes on his hands and at least one will have to be replaced for Monday's game in Hamilton.

An Informative Guide To A Selected Group Of Area Businesses!

BRIDGE SERVICE

STANDARD STATION

Harvey & Pandosy — Phone 762-4115

One of the first businesses tourists encounter coming off Okanagan Lake Bridge into Kelowna is the Bridge Service Standard Station at Harvey Avenue and Pandosy Street.

The gleaming, ultra-modern station provides a warm, and often sought after, welcome for the motorist in need of everything from a washroom to a major repair job.

Owner Al Hromek and his 12-man staff have an unofficial policy of "never leaving a customer stranded" no matter what the hour or the emergency.

With two government licensed mechanics, four pump bays, a large parts store and four repair bays, Bridge Service is well equipped to handle the problems of tourists and Kelowna residents alike.

Since taking over the station 12 years ago, 35-year-old Mr. Hromek has expanded the business to include features like an economical car rental service and coin operated car wash.

His equipment, as good as any station anywhere, includes a diagnostic engine tester which makes a complete analysis of a car engine in 15 minutes. Without the machine a similar analysis would cost a customer three hours labor.

The layout of the extra-long station is deceptive, Mr. Hromek says, because the repair shop is not out in the open and some people think the station is just a pump island.

His mechanics are on duty 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., daily and on call the rest of the time.

Tight now Mr. Hromek is waiting his first shipment of a new additive gasoline to cut carbon build-up. The first shipments from Standard Oil are expected in about two weeks.

As well as regular credit card service, Bridge is also a member of the new Charex chain.

Future plans for Bridge Service are for continued expansion as the city grows and adding to the fleet of rent-a-cars.

Mr. Hromek himself has more than 13 years experience in the service station business.

September A Busy One

By LORNE WHITE

September? That means it's been a year since White Writes made the scene on this page, but it still doesn't seem possible, and I've been thinking about it for the past four days.

The problem is that there aren't any seasons to split up the year—or not at least the four that most people are accustomed to.

For me, there was football, hockey, basketball, softball, track and field, swimming, baseball season.

The seasons quickly move from one to the other, and often overlap, and each season, new people are involved and more new experiences crop up.

The whole year was one of anticipation, as was each new season. It being my first experience at writing (my English teacher would probably back me up on that) and reporting, it was a year that became more and more of a challenge. One that I still don't know was met.

THE PAST 12 MONTHS has been the most interesting of the 252 and without a doubt the most enjoyable.

Meeting people, talking to them, and sometimes probing deep into their secret lives and finding out things they might not have told anybody else, has become more of a pastime than a job to me.

There are the people you will never please, the ones who will find fault with anything you do, some who refuse to be interviewed, won't have their picture taken, or refuses to associate with the press all together. But the majority are: your next door neighbor who coaches hockey, the doctor who is president of the baseball club, or the grocery clerk who plays in the fat man's league—all great guys out to enjoy themselves and have others do the same.

You can't please everyone, especially working in a town this size, with so much activity and having yourself to look after the entire population and its sports scene.

WHILE I'M ON THE SUBJECT, a short digression. A proposal on behalf of the entire sports staff here at the Courier, that all athletic groups in Kelowna elect a public relations officer at their next meeting. Be it the Kelowna and District Tiddly-Wink Association, Girl Watchers of America, or the Marble Throwers of the Central Interior.

A simple request, but one that has been overdue for some time.

With only one on the sports desk, and with the major sports taking up most of the time, it is nearly impossible to "dig" for those advance stories and results of every club in Kelowna. It should be done, but it can't be. Your news is everyone's, and space and time is available should one of your members phone or come into the office and talk over their requirements.

So much for the digression. What were we talking about? September.

Probably the best month of the year for sports fans, and the worst for non sporting type wives, or girl friends.

FISHING IS STILL IN SEASON, and hunting is on its way. Right there, about three-quarters of the population of Kelowna is gone for the four weekends of September. The few that do stay, are hiding away in their den, keeping track of the baseball pennant races for the first time in three months, or taking in football games and getting the latest developments at the National Hockey League camps.

If they do happen to come back for their meals, during the September days, they're off again just as fast, to watch the final games of the softball season, the Kelowna Cubs' and Immaculata Dons' football encounters, or the Kelowna Buckaroos and Salt Lake City Eagles practising.

If your wives haven't caught on yet, make sure you get out this long weekend, because there's something for all of you.

The B.C. Senior B Softball Championships got under way today at 2 p.m., and will be continuing Sunday and Monday in King's Stadium. At Sportsmen's field, the Okanagan Open Trap-shooting Championship got started at 9 a.m. today, and starts Sunday at the same time.

An exhibition soccer game, between the Kelowna-German Canadians and Castlegar club is scheduled for noon Monday at the City Park Oval, and also at the City Park, the annual Lawn Bowling Tournament, with its five entries, will begin at 8:30 a.m. Monday.

For the horseman, the biggest show in the Interior is on once again, with the Kelowna Lions Club Horse Show and Gymkhana being staged at the Kelowna Riding Club grounds on Gordon Road, Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Here we go for another year!

Carl Brewer Packs It In On Detroit

TORONTO (CP) — Carl Brewer, Detroit Red Wings all-star defenceman, said Friday night his retirement from the National Hockey League is "as permanent as anything is permanent."

The Detroit organization announced earlier the 31-year-old Brewer, who came out of a four-year retirement last year to help the Red Wings, had notified them of his plans in a letter to Detroit president Bruce A. Norris.

Brewer said the Red Wings were aware at the end of last season there was a 50-50 chance he wouldn't return.

"I had a talk with them over the summer and so he (Norris) wasn't entirely surprised," said Brewer. "The final decision came this week, but the seeds were there earlier."

Detroit said Brewer had already signed his 1970 contract. The defenceman said the contract doesn't "say you play hockey or else." It merely signifies that should you play hockey, it would be with the club where you have a contractual agreement.

The smooth-skating Brewer said he intends to devote more time to his family and a sports equipment importing business that's "requiring more of my time and it's located here in Toronto."

Soviet Union Has A Chance To Overtake U.S. In Golds

TURIN, Italy (CP) — The Soviet Union today has a chance to tie or overtake the United States in number of gold medals in the second-last day of the sixth World University Games.

The U.S. still leads the medals standings with 20 golds, mostly won in swimming. But the Soviet Union, well behind after the first week of competition and now trailing by two golds only, has become a challenger.

The Americans could hope for a gold only in the men's basketball tournament ending tonight. But they had a tough opponent — the Soviets.

A Russian victory in basketball could put the Soviets in first place for gold medals.

East Germany, competing only in track and field, already has collected six golds in three days. It was expected to score other wins in today's events, including the finals of women's shot-put, the men's 800-metre, the 3,000-metre steeplechase and the women's high jump.

QUALIFIES WITH THIRD

Grant McLaren of Guelph, Ont., qualified for the 3,000 metre steeplechase Friday when he placed third in one of the two semi-finals. He was timed at 8:56.6, compared with the 8:46.4 of Michal Zelev of Bulgaria.

In the men's team epee, closing event of the fencing tournament, the gold was a private affair between Hungary and West Germany, with Italy and Cuba fighting for the third and fourth place.

Also the men's volleyball was to end tonight to leave the closing day's honors to track and field.

In this tournament the deciding game was between Japan and the host team, Italy.

Interest about volleyball ran so deep that hundreds of fans, forced out of the sold-out sports palace, demonstrated wildly Friday night, threatening to tear down the doors.

MORE SPORTS

Of the 10 gold medals at stake today three are considered in the range of the Soviet team.

In the hop, skip and jump event Nikolai Dudkin and Viktor Saneyev, both of the Soviet Union, were rated favorites.

In the decathlon Nikolai Avilov, the Soviet leader of the standings after the first day of competition, was expected to strengthen his leadership in today's final events.

FAVORED TO WIN

Lastly, the Soviet team was the favorite to win the women's volleyball.

Two Goaltenders Making It Tough

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Clarke, Pulford, coach of Lakeshore Maple Leafs, praises the work of his two goaltenders and says Burnaby B.C. "will have to be darn good to beat us."

The two teams meet in a best-of-seven series which will decide the national junior lacrosse champions. The first game is scheduled for Sunday in Port Credit.

Lakeshore gained the finals for the Minto Cup with a 12-7 win over Bramalea Excelsiors Friday. Lakeshore took the best-of-seven series 4-3 to win the Ontario Lacrosse Association Junior A title.

Ron Delmonico coached his Burnaby team to the western championship with a 4-2 series win over Coquitlam and has his son Nick, as his team's leading scorer.

Trudeau Given Applause For Praising Bourassa

SEPT.-ILES. Que. (CP) Prime Minister Trudeau received a thundering round of applause Friday when he congratulated Quebec Premier Robert Bourassa for his co-operation with Quebec Cartier Mining Co. in a project to develop a major open-pit iron-ore project in northeastern Quebec.

The project was announced earlier Friday by Lewis J. Patterson, president of Quebec Cartier Mining, who said that plans for the second phase in the development of the project will be implemented immediately.

He made the announcement after meeting with Mr. Bourassa in Quebec City.

The project will result in an annual production capacity of 18 million tons of concentrates at Mount Wright near the Quebec-Labrador border.

Mr. Trudeau told about 2,000 persons who came to greet him that French-speaking Quebecers should take an active part in national problems.

In the second day of his three-day visit to northeastern Quebec and the Gaspé peninsula, Mr. Trudeau said that Quebecers in the past have tended to retreat too much within their own boundaries.

ROBERT BOURASSA ... praised

Mr. Trudeau flew into this port city of 25,000 on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River from the Magdalen Islands.

Earlier Friday on the Magdalen Islands in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the prime minister urged residents to "retain their regional personality and not merely become numbers in a mechanized society."

Lawyer Ousted At Tate Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The veteran prosecutor who mapped the state's case against four defendants in the Sharon Tate murder trial has been pulled off the case. Reports say his removal came because of his statements to the news media.

The district attorney suddenly removed Chief Prosecutor Aaron H. Stovitz in mid-trial Friday, saying he was needed for administrative duties.

Sources said District Attorney Evelle Younger had been upset about out-of-court statements by the two prosecutors.

Stovitz, 45, chief of the district attorney's trials division, had been on the case, assisted by Vincent Bugliosi, since the actress and six others were found slain in August, 1969.

Charles M. Manson, 35, leader of a hippie-style clan, and three women followers have been on trial since July, charged with murder-conspiracy.

Early this week he was quoted by some reporters as saying that testimony by defendant Susan Atkins about her health was "a performance worthy of a Sarah Bernhardt."

Miss Atkins told the judge she had stomach pains and was too ill to continue. A doctor said she was in good health.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles County Hall of Justice, site of the Sharon Tate murder trial, was rocked by a bomb explosion on its sixth floor today shortly after midnight.

The blast blew out a wall and broke a six-inch water main, but caused no injuries, sheriff's deputies said.

The bomb exploded in a rest room adjacent to the district attorney's office, deputies said. Water from the broken main caused an ankle-deep flood on floors one through six, but caused no damage to official court records housed in the 14-story building, District Attorney Evelle J. Younger told a news conference.

EXCELLENT GARNISH EDMONTON (CP) — Heated peaches, pineapple slices or apricots make excellent garnish for thick ham slices, say nutritionists with the Alberta Hog Producers' Marketing Board.

Chicago Tied With Pirates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain and an automatic tarpaulin that wouldn't work properly ended Pittsburgh Pirates game with the visiting Philadelphia Phillies in the seventh inning Friday night. They'll play the rest of the game before tonight's regularly scheduled contest.

Pittsburgh was ahead 4-1 and Philadelphia's Don Money had walked to open the seventh inning when the game was halted. Pirates, at this point, remain .0004 percentage points ahead of Chicago Cubs in the National League East race.

The Cubs beat the New York Mets 7-4, dropping the losers 1½ games back.

Elsewhere in the NL, San Diego Padres clobbered Cincinnati Reds 15-2, Houston Astros downed Los Angeles Dodgers 7-3 and Montreal Expos edged St. Louis Cardinals 9-7 in 13 innings. San Francisco Giants and Atlanta Braves were rained out in the fifth inning with the Giants leading 1-0.

Solo homers by Richie Hebner, Bob Robertson and Willie Stargell staked the Pirates to their 4-1 lead. Steve Blass, who held the Phillies to five hits through six innings, will be replaced tonight by George Brunette.

The Phils will wait to see what happens in the top of the seventh before they decide on a new pitcher.

Roberto Clemente of the Pirates injured his lower back as he grounded out in the first inning and left the game. It was not known how long he'll be out.

Randy Hundley's two-run single in the seventh inning broke a 3-3 tie and sparked the Cubs to their first victory over the Mets this season in seven starts. Paul Popovich made it a three-run inning with a sacrifice fly and Jim Hickman homered in the eighth. Hundley had doubled across the Cubs' first run in the second.

Art Shamsky hit a three-run homer in the sixth for New York to wipe out a 3-0 Chicago lead.

Pitcher Mike Calkins belted a grand slam homer and Clarence Gaston and Nate Colbert also connected as the Padres tagged Cincinnati ace Jim Merritt and three relievers for 18 hits. Bobby Tolan homered for the Reds.

Jim Maloney, making his first appearance for Cincinnati since he was injured last April, was touched for two runs in the sixth on Gaston's homer and two more in the seventh.

Twins' Alyea Crowns Angels

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The California Angels management waited an extra 15 minutes until all the fans got to their seats before starting the game. But once it began, Minnesota Twins Brant Alyea didn't wait long to do in the Angels.

With two out and two on in the first inning, Alyea drove a first pitch from Rudy May over the left field fence for his 13th home run and the Twins went on to a 4-0 victory that opened up a four-game lead over the second-place Angels in the American League West.

Alyea's homer which gave him eight runs batted in in only 14 at-bats against Angel pitching this year was enough to back the combined pitching of Bert Blyleven and Ron Perranoski who gave a California crowd of 38,189 little to cheer about.

Oakland Athletics blanked Kansas City Royals 5-0, Baltimore Orioles ousted Boston Red Sox 8-6, New York Yankees nipped Cleveland Indians 3-2, Detroit Tigers took Washington Senators 6-3 and Milwaukee Brewers edged the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in 10 innings in other AL games.

The 19-year-old Blyleven, who lives in Anaheim retired the first 11 men he faced and had a two-hitter until he ran into trouble in the sixth. With one out, Tony Gonzales singled, Jim Fregosi walked and Alex Johnson beat out an infield hit to load the bases.

But Perranoski then came in to strike out pinch-hitter Billy Cowan and get Tommy Reynolds on a force play.

Tony Oliva rapped four straight hits for the Twins.

Don Mincher and Gene Tenace clouted homers and Jim Hunter, 16-12, pitched a five-hitter as Oakland beat Kansas City for its sixth straight victory to remain six games behind the Twins. It was Hunter's ninth try for his 16th victory. He had last won on July 30.

Brooks Robinson's 11th straight five straight hits, including a solo homer and a three-run shot to key Baltimore's victory over Boston. Tony Conigliaro hit his second grand slam in four days, his 28th homer of the season, in the first when Boston chased Mike Cuellar, Baltimore's 21-game winner.

Jake Gibbs homered and then broke a 2-2 tie with an RBI single, giving the Yankees and rookie Steve Kline their victory over Cleveland.

The last official shoot of the season produced only a small turnout for the British Columbia Dragon's 22 club Tuesday. Of the targets turned in, only three made the records, headed by Frank Preissl with 97. Dave Newton had a 95-6x, while Stan Chatham recorded a 95-4x. First-Year Law Students 'Make Good Constables'

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — J. F. L.

Gregory, chief of police in Victoria, B.C., recommended that other chiefs adopt a plan initiated by his department this year in which four first-year law students were hired as probationary constables for the summer.

"I believe we have had and will have students who will later go on to become judges, members of Parliament or even members of various police commissions and they will have had this practical working experience," he told the Canadian Association of Police Chiefs.

The students, one of them a girl, walked beats alone, performed routine duties, used patrol cars and were involved in arrests, Chief Gregory said, because "one of the aims of this project is to expose students to the problems of working on a police department."

He said he plans to approach the University of British Columbia with a proposal to have the university include in its curriculum a course for young people wishing to join the police department.

Earlier in the day, Harold Graham, Ontario Provincial Police Assistant Commissioner, read a special report which indicated that hard-core criminals such as burglars and holdup men are turning to the more lucrative crime of fraud.

The fraudulent cheque racket has become a multi-million dollar business in Ontario, the report says, with more than $3 million lost in Toronto alone in 1969.

The report says the greatest increase in organized crime is in the distribution of narcotics, with Montreal the main centre of hard narcotics destined for the United States and Canada.

Heroin available on the West Coast originates usually from Montreal, the report says. Large seizures of hashish and marijuana have been made in Vancouver, Toronto and Montreal.

The report says movement of prostitutes and their pimps continues throughout Canada. Most of the recruitment occurs in Eastern Canadian cities and "is moved to the Prairies by further trade."

In British Columbia, there have been efforts to "set up tables" of Negro prostitutes which the immigration department is attempting to remedy by deportation.

NEW CONCEPT IN PROPERTY
MERCHANDISING

WHERE PROPERTY BUYERS DEAL WITH THE OWNERS DIRECTLY

HERE IS WHAT THE PROPERTY OWNER DOES:
Give us a complete description of your property, together with your price and terms.

HERE IS WHAT OUR OFFICE DOES:

1. We compile from your information a comprehensive description of your property, together with your name, address and telephone number, and include this in our brochure that is being sent to people interested in property in our area.

2. We advertise in every leading newspaper (and in 43 additional newspapers circulating in Western Canada) inviting people to write in and ask us for a brochure on Okanagan properties. (Our advertising is creating a tremendous response and we urgently require more listings to fill the field.)

3. We automatically place your property advertising into thousands of homes.

4. We continue with your advertising in our brochure until your property is sold or removed.

5. We include in our advertising a listing of local building contractors. There is a big demand for this.

6. Our brochures have appearance and prestige. The dignity you demand with your advertising is our greatest concern.

WHAT THE PROPERTY BUYER DOES:

1. He requests a brochure from our office and selects the listings he wants to investigate and contacts the owners of these properties.

WHAT DOES IT COST?

Our office charges a fee of $25.00 from the owner at the time of listing the property. In addition we charge a fee from the owner at the time he sells his property which will cover our advertising fees, for the length of advertising. Please inquire for details at our office. If the property is not sold there is no additional fee and we absorb the loss of the advertising and other related expenses.

The buyer pays nothing. Brochures are free of charge.
Our service ends here, to bring owner and buyer together.

Our office charges an annual fee of $100 for Building
Contractor Listings through our Agency.

WHAT ARE THE ADVANTAGES OF CROSS COUNTRY ADVERTISING?

1. Localized you cater to X number of dollars only,
to finalize a sale.

2. With our facilities you cater to thousands of additional dollars and prospects.

3. You alone deal with a buyer.

4. You can lower your price considerably when you remove third parties and heavy advertising expenses.

5. The buyer gets a real break by dealing in confidence with the owner alone, at a greatly reduced price.
We invite you to use the coupon below for listings or brochures.

School District No. 23 (Kelowna)

We would once again remind parents, and students of all ages and grades, that students are to report to their respective schools on Tuesday, September 8, 1970, and are not to go fruit picking.

As in past years, all arrangements have been made with the B.C.F.G.A. Farm Labour Committee and the Man-power Service, that if any emergency arises in the fruit industry, the Board, with these organizations, will decide whether students will be released to assist.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

A good day where personal relationships are concerned. Especially favored: Outdoor interests, travel, recreation generally and romance. Planetary influences will be especially generous in the area of home and family affairs.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that, even though you may not have attained all the goals you set yourself last year, it's time to take heart. True, while even the next 12 months may not bring all the achievement you'd like, stars do indicate that you should make good headway.

Wise, you should find splendid opportunities for advancement between the 10th of next month and mid-January, in late March, early May and throughout another splendid 3-month cycle beginning on June 1. So be alert to every possible chance for capitalizing on your skills and talents during all of these periods since progress in late 1971 will depend on previous efforts. You will also have some excellent chances to advance your monetary status, in varying stages, during November, January, early March and mid-July. Just don't speculate—especially during November and December of this year.

Most propitious periods for romance: Next month, December, late March and August; for travel: October, late December, January, April and August.

A child born on this day will be extremely ambitious and will be possessed of lofty ideals; would make an excellent writer or drama critic.

SOME COMPLIMENT

Because Tongans are fond of fat and oily foods and consider pig's liver a delicacy fit only for chiefs, one of the highest compliments a youth of the South Pacific Islands can pay a girl is to describe her as a "fat liver" of oil.

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW

Despite the possibility of some minor complications, Monday should be a fairly good day. Routine affairs will probably advance more than new enterprises but, in the latter connection, practically any constructive plan or endeavor should show some progress.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If Monday is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that personal relationships will be unusually harmonious for the next year, and that new ventures, in the occupational sense, could well be launched on the 10th of next month, when you will enter an excellent cycle (lasting until mid-January) for advancing those interests. Next good periods for making job progress: Late March, early May and during another splendid 3-month cycle beginning on June 1. Best months on the fiscal score: November, January, early March and mid-July.

October, late December, January, April and August will comprise excellent periods for travel and, where romance is concerned, you are currently in a most auspicious year, with outstandingly happy periods star-promised next month, in December, late March and August.

A child born on this day could be a great success in the fields of research and/or science; could also excel in statesmanship and/diplomacy.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Bread Any Style Part Of Good Diet

By George C. Thosteson, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: As a health food, which do you recommend: bread made with white flour or whole wheat flour?

We are told today that white flour is enriched. What is it enriched with?

Fifty years or so ago this subject was much discussed. These days we hear very little about which flour is used for the so-called staff of life. — D. B. M.

To your opening question, I don't recommend either over the other. It's a matter of which you like best.

The whole wheat idea had considerable merit, years ago, because in refining white flour a good deal of the vitamin and mineral value was lost. What was left was largely carbohydrate.

Enriched bread now usually means that B vitamins have been added—thiamine, riboflavin, and niacin. In some instances iron may be added.

Calling bread "the staff of life" may not be an entirely accurate way of thinking of it. B vitamins are obtained from other sources, chiefly cereals and meats. We need a certain amount of carbohydrate, but it can be obtained from other sources. Hundreds of millions of people use rice rather than bread as a staple.

Perhaps we'd be better off if we thought of a balanced diet as being the real "staff of life"—protein from meat, fish, and eggs plus a few other sources, carbohydrates whether from bread or other sources, vitamins and minerals from fruits and vegetables.

As to what kind of bread you eat, these days it doesn't make a great deal of difference if the rest of your diet is right.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A while back S. M. wrote in because he was worried about his watch becoming radioactive from the TV. He must have heard, as I did, someone say, "Never put a watch on a TV."

The reason is not because it would harm the wearer, but because it could throw the watch out of kilter. — F. C. S.

Thanks. I know absolutely nothing about the anatomy of watches.

The bidding:
West North East South
2♥ 3♥ 4♥ Dbl
Pass 5♣ Pass 5♣

Opening lead — five of diamonds.

Freak hands are a law unto themselves, and it is hard to bid them scientifically. However, North-South gave an excellent demonstration of the art when they arrived at a sound contract of six spades in this hand from a team of four match.

At the first table, West opened with a preemptive two heart bid. North had a huge variety of calls he could have made at this point with his 8-5-0 hand, but he elected to make a cuebid in hearts.

East also had a choice of bids over three hearts and decided to suppress his heart support for the moment in order to make a lead-directing bid of four diamonds. This suited South to a T and he doubled.

North did not of course stand for the double and ran to five clubs. Recognizing the situation for what it actually was, South bid five spades—he realized that North must have a practically all-black hand—and North raised him to six.

West led a diamond and South had no trouble making six for a score of 1,430 points. The bidding at the second table was less protracted, but also less scientific. It went:

West	North	East	South
2♥	3♥	4♥	Dbl
Pass	5♣	Pass	5♣

Here, also, declarer fared well. East led the ace of diamonds and North made twelve tricks easy as pie. East could have beaten the slam had he led a spade, but it is hard to blame him for failing to find this lead.

So the result was that South made six spades at one table and North made six clubs at the other table—even though East-West had three aces!

"THE NAME OF THE GAME IS LOVING"

COLOUR FOR LOVING

Here is a new and intriguing solution to the problem of colour - pattern - texture selection as prepared by well known interior decorators. Most often a woman knows what colour or colours suit her best in clothing, cosmetics or furnishings. It is instinctive. In a large sense, she wears a home. While each individual is different, there are the three large traditional categories of blond, brunette and redhead. In what colour surrounding would each feel most comfortable, confident, beautiful?

When she enters a home finished and decorated in a way that brings out her best, that home will score high. When a family moves into a new home decorated to flatter her, the wife will feel more comfortable and confident. If she feels more beautiful, she'll be more beautiful — in body and spirit — and no husband will object to that. Men have not been so conscious of color surroundings as women, yet in the last couple of years the peacock has begun to spread his feathers again. The colour scheme solutions which will be presented are not meant to comprise a do-it-yourself kit. They are to express a concept which can be best worked out for specific homes and taste.

COLOUR FOR LOVING FOR BRUNETTES as prepared by Ruth L. Strauss who has done residential design work that has reached from New York apartments to mansions in South America.
